> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims Chronology): Cripps Mission (March 1942) → Wavell Plan (June 1945) → Simla Conference (June–July 1945) → Cabinet Mission (March–May 1946).

14.2 Congress Ministries (1937–39)

Election: provincial elections under the Government of India Act, 1935, held in early 1937 Result: Congress won a majority of seats in six provinces outright (Madras, Bombay, UP, Bihar, Orissa, CP) and was the largest party in others

Cause

- The Government of India Act, 1935 introduced provincial autonomy and made elected ministries possible. Congress first hesitated over office-acceptance, since ministries would work inside a scheme it had itself rejected as inadequate.
- After the Viceroy (वायसराय) assured that provincial governors would not routinely override ministries, Congress agreed to accept office.

Course

- Congress ministries were formed in eight provinces: Madras, Bombay, UP, Bihar, Orissa, CP, Assam and NWFP, either alone or in coalition (गठबंधन), through 1937.
- Ministries pushed civil-liberties measures — released political prisoners, relaxed press curbs — and some social legislation, such as debt-relief and tenancy protection in a few provinces.
- The Muslim League, which had done poorly in Muslim-majority seats, felt shut out where Congress refused coalition offers; this experience hardened League grievances that later fed the Pakistan demand.
- On 3 September 1939, Britain declared India at war without consulting elected Indian opinion. The Congress Working Committee demanded a clear statement of British war aims for India and a real move toward self-government; the offer was refused.
- Congress ministries in all eight provinces resigned in October–November 1939 in protest.

Result

- Ministries lasted about 28 months. UP Premier tag: Govind Ballabh Pant; Finance Rafi Ahmed Kidwai.
- League grievance reports in order: Pirpur Report (1938) → Sharif Report (Mar 1939) → Fazlul Haq / Muslim Sufferings report (Dec 1939).
- Jinnah asked Muslims to observe 22 December 1939 as Day of Deliverance after Congress resignations.

- The two-year experience of running provincial government gave Congress administrative practice and exposed Congress–League friction well before the 1940s.

> Logic: Ministries formed 1937 after the provincial elections; they resigned 1939 over the war. Eight provinces, not all eleven British Indian provinces.

14.3 Congress Socialist Party

Year: 1934 (Bombay meeting / formal organisation through that year — not a January-only founding date trap) Stream: socialist group inside Congress Key names: Jayaprakash Narayan, Acharya Narendra Dev, Ram Manohar Lohia, Minoo Masani, Yusuf Meherally (circle varies by book)

Cause

- Younger Congressmen wanted a sharper anti-imperial and socialist programme after the Civil Disobedience (सविनय अवज्ञा) years, without leaving the Congress mass organisation for the CPI (सीपीआई) or a separate party.

Course

- The Congress Socialist Party worked as a left wing inside Congress, pressing land reform, workers' rights and uncompromising struggle while accepting the broader national movement.
- Jawaharlal Nehru (जवाहरलाल नेहरू) sympathised with many CSP ideas but never formally joined the party — a classic UPPCS trap.
- CSP is not Bose's Forward Bloc (1939) and not the Communist Party of India.

Result

- CSP kept a socialist current alive inside Congress through the late 1930s and into the wartime years; several CSP leaders later became major post-1947 opposition and socialist figures.
- Do not merge CSP with Forward Bloc, CPI, or Swaraj (स्वराज) Party (1923).

> Logic: CSP ≠ Forward Bloc. CSP ≠ CPI. Nehru never formally joined.

14.4 Subhas Chandra Bose (सुभाष चंद्र बोस)

- Born 23 January 1897 at Cuttack (Odisha); Scottish Church College graduate; selected for ICS (1920) then quit. Title Netaji (नेताजी) is keyed to the Germany phase.
- Rabindranath Tagore called him Desh Nayak; Gandhi called him the Patriot of Patriots.
- Political guru (गुरु) often keyed = C.R. Das.
- He was Congress President at Haripura 1938 and Tripuri 1939.
- At Tripuri he defeated Gandhi's candidate Pattabhi Sitaramayya; Working-Committee disputes forced his resignation, and Rajendra Prasad took the presidency (प्रेसीडेंसी).

- He founded Forward Bloc in 1939. It is left-nationalist, not CSP. Sheel Bhadra Yajee joined him in founding the All India Forward Bloc and later worked with the INA stream.
- He treated a Britain–Germany war as a godsend chance to strike for freedom.
- He escaped Calcutta in January 1941 as "Ziauddin" and reached Germany, where he set up the Free India Centre and raised the Free Indian Legion from Indian POWs (North Africa / Rommel theatre tag).
- He then went by submarine to South-East Asia in 1943.
- He took over INA from the Rash Behari Bose / Mohan Singh stream.
- He proclaimed Azad Hind Government on 21 October 1943 at Singapore.
- His slogans include "Give me blood and I will give you freedom", Delhi Chalo, and Jai Hind.
- His books are The Indian Struggle and An Indian Pilgrim.
- Bose did preside over Congress, unlike Tilak (तिलक).

> Logic: Bose = Haripura/Tripuri + Forward Bloc 1939 + INA + Azad Hind Govt 1943.

14.5 Forward Bloc

Year: 1939 Founder: Subhas Chandra Bose (सुभाष चंद्र बोस)

- After Tripuri, Bose left the Congress high command but stayed in the nationalist stream.
- Forward Bloc is not the Congress Socialist Party of 1934 and not the CPI.
- Its aim was uncompromising struggle for independence.
- Wartime Bose politics then ran through the INA, not through a mass Indian party machine.

> Logic: Forward Bloc 1939 Bose. CSP 1934 inside Congress.

14.6 Second World War and India

- Britain declared India at war in September 1939 without consulting Congress.
- Congress ministries resigned in late 1939.
- League observed Deliverance Day.
- Iqbal floated a consolidated north-west Muslim homeland at the League's Allahabad (इलाहाबाद) session (पंगु सत्र) (1930). Cambridge student Chaudhary Rahmat Ali coined Pakstan/Pakistan in the 1933 pamphlet Now or Never.
- The League's Lahore session (22–24 March 1940), President Jinnah, passed the Pakistan resolution (draft often keyed to Sikandar Hayat Khan; moved by Fazlul Haq). 23 March 1943 was later marked Pakistan Day.
- Sarojini Naidu had earlier called Jinnah Ambassador of Hindu–Muslim Unity. Iqbal's line in Nehru's telling: Nehru a patriot, Jinnah a politician.
- Ramgarh Congress met in March 1940. Azad was President.

- The August Offer came on 8 August 1940 under Linlithgow.
- It offered to expand the Executive Council, a war advisory body, and dominion after the war.
- It also gave minorities a veto on a future constitution.
- Congress rejected it. The League rejected it because Pakistan was not clear.
- Individual Satyagraha began in October 1940.
- Vinoba Bhave was first. Nehru (नेहरू) was among those jailed.
- It was symbolic, not mass Civil Disobedience.
- Order: ministries resign (1939), then Ramgarh (March 1940), then August Offer (August 1940), then Cripps (March 1942).

> Logic: August Offer 1940 ≠ Cripps 1942. Ministries resign 1939.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2024, Q133): Chronology ladder: Resignation of Congress Ministries (Oct 1939) → Ramgarh Congress Session (March 1940) → Linlithgow August Offer (Aug 1940) → Cripps Mission arrival (March 1942).

14.7 Cripps Mission (March 1942)

Who: Sir Stafford Cripps (Labour, War Cabinet) When: March 1942 (after Japan's advance)

Cause

- Japan's rapid advance through South-East Asia in early 1942 threatened India directly, and Britain's wartime allies, especially the US, pressed London to win genuine Indian support for the war effort.

Course

- Sir Stafford Cripps brought an offer in March 1942: Dominion Status (डोमिनियन) after the war, a Constituent Assembly (संविधान सभा), and the right of any province to opt out of the Union. Immediate control of defence stayed with the British for the duration of the war.
- Gandhi dismissed the offer as "a post-dated cheque on a crashing bank."
- Jawaharlal Nehru (जवाहरलाल नेहरू) and Maulana Azad were Congress's official negotiators with Cripps.

Result

- Congress rejected it: there was no immediate national government, and the opt-out clause threatened Indian unity.
- The League rejected it too, since there was no express commitment to Pakistan.
- The failure of Cripps became the direct climate for Quit India later that year.

> Logic: Cripps = 1942, not 1946. 1946 = Cabinet Mission.

14.8 Quit India Movement (8 August 1942)

Place: Bombay (Gowalia Tank / August Kranti Maidan (मैदान)) Slogan: Do or Die Resolution: Wardha in July, then Bombay AICC on 8 August 1942

Cause

- The failure of the Cripps Mission convinced Gandhi and Congress that Britain would offer no genuine transfer of power short of a final push, and Congress resolved to demand immediate British withdrawal.

Course

- The Congress Working Committee passed the "Quit India" resolution at Wardha in July, adopted (अंगीकृत) by the AICC at Bombay on 8 August 1942, with Gandhi's call of "Do or Die."
- Yusuf Meher Ali is keyed with coining the slogan Quit India. Nehru moved the Bombay AICC resolution; Patel supported; Azad was Congress President (Ramgarh 1940 continuity).
- Arrests under Operation Zero Hour (शून्य काल) (9 August): Gandhi and Sarojini Naidu to Aga Khan Palace; many Working Committee members to Ahmednagar Fort; Rajendra Prasad (not in Bombay) to Bankipur (Patna (पटना)) jail.
- American journalist Louis Fischer (Gandhi's biographer) was with Gandhi in this season. Linlithgow called the rising the most serious since 1857, citing peasant fury in eastern UP–Bihar.
- All top leaders were arrested on 8–9 August, so the movement ran leaderless and underground.
- Aruna Asaf Ali hoisted the flag at Gowalia Tank; Usha Mehta ran Congress Radio from Bombay; Matangini Hazra, 73, was shot at Tamluk while carrying the flag; Kanaklata Barua fell at Gohpur in Assam.
- Parallel governments rose at Ballia under Chittu Pandey in UP, at Tamluk in Midnapore, and as the Satara Prati Sarkar under Nana Patil; Talcher is another stock name.
- Shanti Ghosh was not a Quit India woman — she belongs to the 1931 Bengal revolutionary (क्रांतिकारी) shooting with Suniti Chaudhuri, not 1942.

Result

- Brutal repression crushed the movement's open, organised phase within months, and it did not immediately throw the British out.
- It did convince British opinion that ruling India by force indefinitely was unsustainable, making a negotiated post-war exit unavoidable.

> Logic: QI women = Aruna, Matangini, Kanaklata. Shanti Ghosh ≠ QI.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2023, Q48): Shanti Ghosh was NOT associated with Quit India 1942; she and Suniti Chaudhary shot dead Magistrate Stevens in Comilla in December 1931. Matangini Hazra, Aruna Asaf Ali, and Kanaklata Barua were prominent Quit India martyrs/leaders.

14.9 Azad Hind Fauj and Azad Hind Government

Cause

- Indian prisoners of war captured by Japan in South-East Asia, together with émigré nationalists such as Rash Behari Bose, wanted an armed Indian force to fight alongside Japan and free India by force rather than by negotiation with Britain.

Course

- Idea-circle for the first INA is often keyed to Giani Pritam Singh and Japanese Major Iwaichi Fujiwara; Capt. Mohan Singh became the first operational commander (15 July 1942 formation tag; first division Sept 1942). Leadership distrust with Rash Behari Bose later dissolved that first INA.
- On 4 July 1943 Rash Behari Bose handed command to Subhas Chandra Bose, who rebuilt the force at Singapore (then British Malaya).
- The Provisional Government of Free India (Azad Hind) was proclaimed on 21 October 1943 at Singapore (recognised by about nine Axis/friendly states in GC memory). Andaman (अंडमान) and Nicobar (निकोबार) were symbolically renamed Shaheed and Swaraj (स्वराज).
- Famous appeal: "Give me blood and I will give you freedom." Jai Hind was the INA salute that entered national usage.
- The Rani Jhansi Regiment, the women's wing, was led by Lakshmi Swaminathan (Sehgal).
- The INA fought alongside Japan in the Imphal–Kohima campaigns of 1944.

Result

- The INA collapsed once Japan was defeated, and its officers were later tried at the Red Fort (14.10).
- Bose died on 18 August 1945 in the Taihoku air-crash account, but the INA's stand and the trials that followed did lasting damage to British confidence in the loyalty of Indian troops.

> Logic: Azad Hind Government = 21 Oct 1943 Singapore. Rani Jhansi = INA women, not 1857.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2023, Q45): Female Regiment of Azad Hind Fauj: Rani Jhansi Regiment (formed 1943 under Subhas Chandra Bose, led by Lakshmi Swaminathan/Sahgal; other INA brigades: Subhash, Gandhi, Nehru, Azad).

14.10 INA Trials

Where: Red Fort, Delhi When: November 1945 onwards First trio: Prem Kumar Sahgal, Shah Nawaz Khan, Gurbaksh Singh Dhillon (Hindu–Muslim–Sikh)

Cause

- Captured INA officers were put on trial for waging war against the King. The British meant the trials as a warning; Indian opinion read them as trials of patriots.

Course

- The first famous trio — Sahgal, Shah Nawaz Khan and Dhillon — was tried at the Red Fort. Defence Committee led by Bhulabhai Desai, with Tej (उष्णकटिबंधीय पूर्वी जेट) Bahadur Sapru, K.N. Katju, Asaf Ali and Nehru. Patel is the classic "not on the defence team" trap.
- Rashid Ali drew a seven-year sentence in related proceedings; the famous trio faced transportation for life before remission.
- Azad Hind Fauj Week 5–11 November 1945; Azad Hind Fauj Day 12 November 1945. Mass protest filled the streets.

Result

- Commander-in-Chief Claude Auchinleck remitted the heavy sentences under mass pressure.
- Mohan Singh is not among the Red Fort trio defendants. Do not place the trials at Gwalior, Amer or Agra.
- The trials turned military defeat into a political storm and deepened British doubt about the loyalty of Indian troops — pressure that fed the 1945–47 endgame.

> Logic: INA trials = Red Fort. Trio = Sahgal, Shah Nawaz, Dhillon.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2019, Q21): The historic INA court-martial trials were held at the Red Fort, Delhi (Nov 1945) against Col. Prem Sehgal, Col. Gurbaksh Singh Dhillon, and Maj. Gen. Shah Nawaz Khan.

14.11 Political Deadlock (formulas)

C.R. Formula (1944)

- The author is C. Rajagopalachari, not C.R. Das.
- Congress would accept a post-war commission on Pakistan if the League backed independence and a period of central defence and foreign affairs.
- Gandhi–Jinnah talks on this formula failed.
- The C.R. Formula (1944) was prepared by C. Rajagopalachari, not C.R. Das.

Desai–Liaquat Pact (January 1945)

Actors: Bhulabhai Desai (Congress Central Assembly leader) and Liaquat Ali Khan (Muslim League deputy leader)

Cause

- After Cripps and wartime deadlock, informal Congress–League contacts sought an interim coalition formula before a full constitutional settlement.

Course

- Desai and Liaquat sketched an interim government with parity of representation for Congress and the League in the Central Executive (minority seats also reserved in the usual telling).
- The talks were informal; neither Gandhi nor Jinnah gave a firm public endorsement that stuck.

Result

- The pact itself did not hold, but it kept the idea of a parity-based interim executive alive and fed into the climate of the Wavell Plan / Simla Conference (June–July 1945).

> Logic: C.R. = Rajaji (राजाजी). Das died 1925 and cannot author a 1944 formula. Desai–Liaquat = 1945 interim parity talk, not the Wavell Plan itself.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2019, Q96): C. Rajagopalachari prepared the "C.R. Formula" (March 1944) to resolve the political deadlock between the Indian National Congress and the Muslim League on the basis of a plebiscite in contiguous Muslim-majority areas.

14.12 Wavell Plan and Simla Conference

Viceroy: Lord Wavell Plan announced: June 1945 Simla Conference: June–July 1945

Cause

- With the war in Europe over and Japan's defeat approaching, Wavell wanted to restart political talks and give India a genuinely Indian executive before deciding its post-war constitutional future.

Course

- The Wavell Plan (June 1945) proposed reconstructing the Viceroy's Executive Council as all-Indian except the Viceroy and Commander-in-Chief, with caste-Hindu and Muslim seats equal, League and Congress each nominating their members.
- The Simla Conference (June–July 1945) was called to work out the nominations.
- It failed when Jinnah demanded that the League alone nominate all Muslim members, with no Congress Muslim included; Congress refused to accept a veto on its own Muslim members.

Result

- The talks broke down without forming the new Council, leaving the deadlock over Muslim representation unresolved going into 1946.
- Place Wavell/Simla after Cripps 1942 and before Cabinet Mission 1946 (after Cripps 1942, before Cabinet Mission 1946).

> Logic: Wavell Plan and Simla are 1945, not 1946. 1946 = Cabinet Mission.

14.13 Cabinet Mission (1946)

Members: Pethick-Lawrence, Stafford Cripps, A.V. Alexander (सिकंदर) In India: March 1946 Plan: 16 May 1946

Cause

- The Simla failure of 1945 had left the Congress–League deadlock unresolved. Attlee's new Labour government wanted a fresh, detailed constitutional plan before committing to any transfer of power.

Course

- Three British Cabinet ministers — Pethick-Lawrence (chair), Stafford Cripps, A.V. Alexander — arrived in India in March 1946 and issued their plan on 16 May 1946. Wavell was Viceroy, not a Cabinet Mission member.
- The plan sketched a three-tier polity (Union / groups / provinces) and rejected a sovereign Pakistan as the starting point.
- Gandhi (गांधी) called it the best document Britain could produce in the circumstances. Congress President during Mission talks = Maulana Azad (also the Cripps/Wavell negotiator tag).
- It did not concede a sovereign Pakistan as a first principle. It proposed instead a weak Centre for defence, foreign affairs and communications, with provinces placed in three groups: Group A (Madras, Bombay, UP, Bihar, CP, Orissa), Group B (Punjab, NWFP, Sindh) and Group C (Bengal, Assam). There would be a Constituent Assembly and an interim government, and provinces could later reconsider their grouping.
- The League first accepted the plan, then withdrew on 29 July 1946 after Nehru's remarks appeared to deny the binding nature of the grouping scheme.

Result

- The League's withdrawal led it to call Direct Action Day for 16 August 1946 (full card in 14.15), but it still joined the Interim Government on 26 October 1946.
- Both facts can be true: the League withdrew from the Cabinet Mission Plan in July 1946, yet still joined the Interim Government in October 1946. Joining the Interim does not explain the earlier withdrawal.

> Logic: Cabinet Mission 1946. Withdrawal ≠ never joining Interim. Both facts true; not cause-and-effect as R claims.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2018): Both (A) and (R) are true, but (R) is not correct explanation of (A) — Muslim League withdrew acceptance of Cabinet Mission Plan over Congress statements on Constituent Assembly majority; later joined Interim Government on 13 Oct 1946 upon Wavell's repeated requests.

14.14 RIN Mutiny (18–23 February 1946)

Where: Bombay, spreading to Karachi, Calcutta, Vizag and other naval stations Ship where it began: HMIS Talwar Rating leaders: M.S. Khan, Madan Singh

Cause

- Royal Indian Navy ratings mutinied over racial discrimination, poor food and pay, and slow demobilisation after the war, and in solidarity with the INA prisoners then on trial.

Course

- Ratings on HMIS Talwar refused duty on 18 February 1946; the mutiny spread within days to some seventy-odd ships (नावाध्यक्ष) and shore establishments across Bombay, Karachi, Calcutta and Vizag.
- Bombay's working class and students joined sympathy strikes and street protests; there was firing and loss of life before the Navy restored order by 23 February.
- This was a ratings' mutiny, not a Congress-organised satyagraha, though Congress and the League both mediated to end it.

Result

- The mutiny showed the British that the loyalty of the armed forces could no longer be assumed — the same anxiety the INA trials had already exposed a few months earlier.
- It added to the pressure that led directly into the Cabinet Mission's announcement later that same February. Place RIN strictly in February 1946, after the UK Parliamentary Delegation and just before that announcement.

> Logic: RIN Mutiny = February 1946, Bombay, HMIS Talwar. Not the same event as Quit India 1942.

14.15 Direct Action Day and the Road to Partition

Called by: Muhammad Ali Jinnah and the Muslim League Council Date: 16 August 1946

Cause

- The League called Direct Action Day after the Cabinet Mission talks collapsed and after Congress alone entered Interim Government negotiations on terms the League rejected. The League wanted a show of strength for Pakistan outside the British constitutional timetable.

Course

- The call was for a province-wide general strike and mass demonstration in support of Pakistan; it was not framed as a formal satyagraha.
- In Calcutta, the day set off severe communal killing that ran for several days; violence then spread to Noakhali (East Bengal) and, in reprisal, to Bihar.
- The Great Calcutta Killings of August 1946 are treated as the opening act of the communal violence that continued into 1947.
- Renewed rioting followed in Punjab and the NWFP through late 1946 and 1947 as the transfer-of-power talks dragged on.

Result

- Partition emerged from this spiral as the price both the League and, eventually, Congress accepted to stop the killing and reach a fixed transfer date — it was not a British-imposed idea from the start, but a solution both major parties came to accept by 1947.
- The final territorial line came only with the Mountbatten Plan (3 June 1947) and the Radcliffe Boundary Commission; the human cost was large-scale refugee movement and communal killing on both sides of the new Punjab and Bengal borders.

- Keep the sequence clear: Direct Action Day (16 Aug 1946) is the spark; communal violence 1946–47 is the climate; the Mountbatten Plan and Boundary Commission (1947) is the actual partition mechanism.

> Logic: Direct Action Day 16 August 1946 precedes and drives the pressure toward the June 1947 partition decision. It is a League call, not a Congress movement.

14.16 Final Phase (1945–47)

- The UK Parliamentary Delegation came in January 1946 and sat at Delhi.
- The RIN Revolt of February 1946 (full card above) hit just before the Cabinet Mission's announcement.
- Attlee announced the Cabinet Mission on 19 February 1946. The Mission arrived on 24 March.
- The Interim Government was announced on 24 August 1946 and took office on 2 September 1946, headed by Nehru (Vice-President of the Executive Council / External Affairs).
- Stock portfolios: Rajendra Prasad Food & Agriculture; Patel Home / princely; Asaf Ali Railways & Transport; Jagjivan Ram Labour; Baldev Singh Defence. Ambedkar (अम्बेडकर) and Azad were not in the first Interim Cabinet.
- League joined on 26 October; Liaquat Ali Khan took Finance (controversial budget). Direct Action Day (16 August) had already flared at Calcutta–Noakhali.
- Direct Action Day (16 August 1946) and the communal violence that followed (full card above) hardened the drive toward Partition.
- Attlee's statement of 20 February 1947 promised transfer of power by June 1948.
- Order: Cabinet Delegation arrival (March 1946), then RIN Revolt (February 1946 is earlier — watch chronology traps), then Cabinet Mission plan (16 May 1946), then Interim Government (September 1946).

> Logic: Announcement of Cabinet Mission in February 1946 is not the same as formation of the Interim in September 1946.
> [!TIP] Exam Anchor (UPPCS Prelims 2024, Q16): Chronology ladder: UK Parliamentary Delegation arrival in Delhi (Jan 1946) → Royal Indian Navy Revolt (18–23 Feb 1946) → Announcement of Cabinet Mission (19 Feb 1946) → Formation of Interim Government (Sept 1946).

14.17 Attlee's Statement (20 February 1947)

Who: British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, in the House of Commons

- Attlee announced that His Majesty's Government intended to transfer power to Indian hands by a date not later than June 1948.
- He stated that if Indian parties could not agree on a constitution through the existing Constituent Assembly machinery, the British government would have to decide to whom power should be transferred — a clear signal that a united transfer was no longer guaranteed if Congress and the League stayed deadlocked.

- The statement announced that Lord Mountbatten would replace Wavell as Viceroy to carry the transfer through.
- This is the announcement that fixed a deadline for the first time. Everything before it (Cripps, Wavell Plan, Cabinet Mission) had offered a scheme without a hard date.
- Mountbatten arrived in March 1947 and, finding the June 1948 timetable unworkable given the communal violence, advanced the date to 15 August 1947 in his own Plan of 3 June.
- Do not confuse Attlee's February 1947 announcement (a deadline statement) with Mountbatten's June 1947 Plan (the actual partition mechanism) or the Indian Independence Act's July 1947 royal assent (the legal instrument).

> Logic: Attlee 20 Feb 1947 = June 1948 deadline + names Mountbatten. Mountbatten himself advanced that date to 15 August 1947.

14.18 Mountbatten Plan (3 June 1947)

Viceroy: Lord Mountbatten (arrived March 1947) Plan: 3 June 1947 (also called June 3 Plan)

Cause

- Attlee's February 1947 deadline of June 1948 had not stopped worsening communal violence after Direct Action Day. Mountbatten, arriving in March 1947, judged that a firmer, faster date was the only way to prevent a fuller breakdown.

Course

- Mountbatten's staff first drafted a fragmented Plan Balkan / Dickie Bird Plan (May 1947) under General Hastings (हेस्टिंग्स) Ismay: power would devolve to provinces and princely states with freedom to join India, Pakistan, or remain separate. When Mountbatten showed the draft secretly to Nehru at Simla, Nehru rejected it as a recipe for chaos; Mountbatten scrapped it.
- He then settled the 3 June 1947 Plan: two dominions; Punjab/Bengal partition votes; NWFP/Sylhet referendums; states to choose accession.
- A Boundary Commission under Cyril Radcliffe drew the line. V.P. Menon drafted much of the plan. Congress AICC accepted partition at Delhi (14–15 June 1947) under President J.B. Kripalani; resolution moved by G.B. Pant, seconded by Azad. Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan voted against; Saifuddin Kitchlew called it surrender of nationalism to communalism.
- Gandhi had urged Mountbatten to invite Jinnah to form the government as an alternative to partition — Congress leadership did not accept that line. At midnight 14/15 August, Sucheta Kripalani sang Jana Gana Mana (मानो) and Sare Jahan Se Achha in the Assembly.

Result

- Transfer of power was advanced from the promised June 1948 to 15 August 1947, compressing the practical work of partition into just over two months.
- The plan became law through the Indian Independence Act (18 July 1947), taught next.

- Plan Balkan is the discarded May draft; the Mountbatten Plan is the accepted 3 June framework — do not swap them.

> Logic: Mountbatten Plan = 3 June 1947. The Act is 18 July. Independence Day = 15 August. Plan Balkan ≠ June 3 Plan.

14.19 Indian Independence Act, 1947

Passed: 18 July 1947 (Royal Assent) Effect: 15 August 1947

- It created two independent dominions, India and Pakistan.
- It ended British paramountcy over the princely states.
- Each dominion had a Governor-General (गवर्नर-जनरल), with the Constituent Assembly as legislature.
- The GOI Act 1935 continued as a temporary frame until a new constitution.
- 15 August is independence. 18 July is the statute. Do not swap.
- Partition violence and refugee movement are the human cost. Princely integration belongs to the next chapter.

> Logic: Act 18 July 1947 ≠ 3 June Plan (3 जून योजना) ≠ 15 August.
